Bruce Beard Honored as “Top Lawyer” by Cablefax

Bruce Beard, Managing Partner of Cinnamon Mueller in St Louis, has been named a “Top Lawyer” by Cablefax, a news organization delivering comprehensive coverage of business developments affecting the cable, broadband and digital markets. Cablefax described the winners, who were identified by the publication’s editors and readers, as those “who help companies navigate an increasingly chaotic business environment, from the intricacies of FCC policy to programming negotiations to copyright and intellectual property disputes and beyond.” Winners will be honored at an awards dinner at the National Press Club on March 19 in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Beard is entering his 30th year of practice in telecommunications law. He represents cable, broadband, wireless and landline companies on regulatory, operational, and transactional matters and provides counsel to the American Cable Association.

Cinnamon Mueller is a boutique law firm serving independent communications and technology companies in a broad range of transactions and regulatory matters and is outside counsel to the American Cable Association. Cinnamon Mueller has offices in St. Louis and Washington DC.
