Summer 2014 Courses offered via Distance Education (On-line):

Maximum credit hours of Distance Education Credits: No more than 4 distance education credits can be earned per semester. No more than a total of 12 distance education credits can be earned per degree.

The following course content and methods of course delivery and evaluation are offered by distance education:

Law 537-201 (3 credit hours)       Trial Advocacy       Behan, C.
Law 539-201 (3 credit hours)       Introduction to Transactional Skills       Camero
Law 555-202* (3 credit hours)       Remedies       Brittingham

*Although Remedies (Law 555-201) will be taught onsite at the School of Law, students with instructor permission will be allowed to participate in the course by distance education methodology (Law 555-202). For those participating in this course by distance education methodology, the course does count against the allowed credit hours of distance education toward the J.D. degree.

ABA Standards for Approval of Law Schools 2013-2014

Standard 306. Distance Education

- A law school shall not grant a student more than four credit hours in any term, nor more than a total of 12 credit hours, toward the J.D. degree for courses qualifying under this Standard.

- No student shall enroll in courses qualifying for credit under this Standard until that student has completed instruction equivalent to 28 credit hours toward the J.D. degree.

- No credit otherwise may be given toward the J.D. degree for any distance education course.

*Although Law 555-201 Remedies will be taught onsite at the School of Law, students with instructor permission will be allowed to participate in the course by distance education methodology.
